EIGHT FIRES IN ONE NIGHT

An Incendiary Kept the People Busy at New Bedford

New Bedford, July 23.—A $300,000 fire in the plant of the New Bedford Cordage company at 7.10 this morning was the climax of a night of terror in this city, during which a firebug kept firemen and police on the chase all night, and left behind him a string of small fires. This fire was under control in about two hours, and was kept confined to the picker house. The first fire was at 7 o'clock last night at the home of Charles Baskin on Second street. This fire was discovered quickly and was put out before any great damage had been done. The next alarm was at 8 p. m. on the room of the W. H. Russell storehouse, Barker's lane in the centre of the city. This blaze was hardly started before it was discovered and was put out with small loss.

The first dangerous fire came at 11.40, when a pile of rubbish was found ablaze in the rear of the Savoy theatre, a wooden building. The rubbish had been piled against a corner and was making good headway when discovered. Adjoining the theatre are many retail houses, and prompt work here undoubtedly prevented a disastrous fire.

At 1 a. m. the firebug began his work on the water front and fired the building of William Bayliss and company, dealers in hay and grain. The loss will be $2,500. The grain shed fire was one of the worst of the night and for a time it looked as though the flames would spread to the piers of the New Haven railroad.

Just as this fire had been put out, another was started in Barker's lane, close to the custom house and post-office. Chief Dahill was on his way back to headquarters when he saw flames creeping up the side of the howling alleys of E. T. Chapman. By getting at the fire from the inside it was soon extinguished with about $500 loss.

Next came box 24, at 2.45 a. m. where it was found that kerosene had been thrown on the corner of the building of Henry Richmond at No. 382 Kempton street. This was discovered by Robert Gillis, a baker, who works next door. The fire worked to the store of the Thomas Shanks shoe company, and Jones' Variety store, but only $500 damage was done. Mrs. Eliza Drew and her family, who lived over the building, were alarmed and sent out of the house when the fire was discovered.

Not in years has the city had such a fire scare. All night Chief Dahill had his own inspectors out after the man, and they were aided by the police. It is believed that the man made his way about on a bicycle.

HAD GOOD TIME AT NEWFIELDS

The lawn party given at Newfields on Thursday in the aid of the Catholic church was decidedly successful from both a social and financial standpoint. The decorations were exquisite and consisted of flags, hunting, lanterns and flowers. Dancing on the lawn to the music of an orchestra added much to the occasion.

Repairing the old bridge to the navy yard looks little like a new steel bridge to replace both the present structures, plans for which were drawn some years ago.

One of the worst misleading souvenir cards bears a view taken from Badger's Island bridge looking eastward, and inscribed "Panorama View of Kittery and the Navy Yard." As a matter of fact it shows a section of the shore of Kittery with a few scattering houses only, while of the navy yard itself not a vestige is to be seen.

GEO. T. VAUGHAN RETIRES

Oldest Business Man Sells Out to Walter S. Jackson

George T. Vaughan, the oldest business man in Portsmouth, retired today, much to the surprise of all who know him.

He sold his ship chandlery business on Market street to Walter S. Jackson of Kittery.

Mr. Vaughan began the work of a ship chandler between forty-eight and forty-nine years ago in the identical store which he today turned over to a younger man. He was there only a few years before he bought out the business and it has since been conducted in his name. He was before selling out, the holder of the endurance record among all the business men of the city.

His forty-eight years have given him a substantial standing in the city, and he has earned an enviable reputation for square dealing and good service. He has had a large trade with the merchantmen and yachtsmen who come to this port.

Mr. Vaughan is an active man and retires while still able to get the enjoyment out of life. He is an active member of the Portsmouth Board of Trade and Merchants' Exchange.

Mr. Jackson, the purchaser, is one of the sterling young men of Kittery and is highly regarded in this city as well as in his home town. He has recently been an expert machinist at the navy yard. His many friends wish him all in this business venture.

SHEA SENTENCED TO PRISON

Judge Says Shea Brought Disgrace to Organized Labor

New York, July 23.—Cornelius P. Shea, for assault with intent to kill his alleged mistress, Alice Walsh, was today sentenced to not less than five nor more than twenty-five years of imprisonment at Sing Sing.

The judge made the sentencing of Shea the occasion for a scathing address, saying that he was removing from the ranks of organized labor a man who brought disgrace upon his followers, a brute, a coarse being who had done much to prejudice the American people against labor organizations.

Shea is thirty-six years old and was born in Cambridge, Mass., where his father was a "hepat" contractor. The boy worked for his father and became a member of Tipcart Drivers' Union No. 191 of Boston. It was as a delegate from this union to the national convention of teamsters at Niagara in 1903 that the stocky young man brought together the warring factions of American teamsters. He was elected president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters as a reward. Two years later Shea stood in the streets of Chicago and snatched his fingers at the mayor, the police, the millions of dollars of employers and federal troops. Only by his pass might a government wagon, containing government money, go through the streets.

Chicago's Reign of Terror began about the middle of April, 1905. Montgomery Ward and company, a large mail order house, had refused to take back nineteen garment cutters who had joined a strike. Shea, as president of the International Brotherhood, said: "Order out the 3,600 teamsters employed by the department stores, coal dealers and express companies having contracts with this firm."

That order tied up the entire city of Chicago for four months, cost packers, department stores and other lines of industry $30,000,000, drew former President Roosevelt from Washington to confer with his insurgents and caused thirty deaths and 500 cases of injury.

THEATRICAL TOPICS

Hampton Beach Casino

Patrons of the Hampton Beach casino theatre will welcome the announcement of the Joseph J. Flynn Opera Co. with Tom Whyte and all the favorites of the cast. The bill to be presented will be "Fra Diavolo," an opera in three acts by Aubert, the famous Italian composer, and translated and adapted by Sir Arthur Sullivan and James Pittman and considered one of the best operas of the Italian school. The score of "Fra Diavolo" contains many beautiful numbers of rare quality, numbers that have perpetuated Aubert's name as a composer of merit. The scene is laid in Italy, in the neighborhood of Terracina. In "Fra Diavolo" the company are afforded ample opportunity for the display of their ability and this performance of this opera is one of the most artistic of anything to be seen at Hampton Beach this summer.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening next week.

Boston's Most Popular Amusement Resort

The regular Saturday night fireworks display were the big feature of the program last Saturday evening at Paragon, the park de luxe. Nothing to equal in novelty and attractiveness these Chinese and Italian fireworks has ever been seen here before. Manager Edgely inaugurated his series of 4th of July celebrations every Saturday night at Paragon. The crowd that came down specially last Saturday night to see the pyrotechnics was enormous, and the crowd on succeeding Saturday nights will doubtless be even larger. Many take advantage of this extra attraction by arriving early enough to secure a table in the Palm Garden or one of the verandas where they may discuss the menu and the wine list at leisure while commanding a fine view of the fireworks on the lagoon and at the same time enjoy the band concert.

While there is an almost continuous supply of free attractions at Paragon Park a large percentage of the thousands of visitors to the park daily do not neglect to take in one or more of the feature shows to which an extra admission is charged. Among these are: the big Parisian illusion spectacle, "The Spray of Life," in which three exceedingly pretty girls are seen floating most mysteriously through space, dancing on sunbeams, and tripping lightly on drops of water from golden, red, purple, green and pink geysers spouting high in the air; the Human Bouffette, the Reant Show, Monkeyland, Diamond Lew's Wild West moving pictures, the Tel of Fun and Incubators, Japanese rolling balls, the vaudeville theatre roller coaster, the Mexico scenic railway, Circle Swing, and many others.

Forever's war, balloon ascension and parachute drops are still a regular feature of the free attractions as well as his terrific whirling slide for life from the top of the electric tower to the bottom grounds and the thrilling high dive made by Digney from a height of 150 feet into a small tank of water only 43 inches deep.

The automobile patronage of the park has reached such proportion that Manager Dodge has been obliged to provide a special entrance to the park with free parking privileges.

Footlight Flashes

Verner Clarges, who will be in the company supporting Robert Edison in "The Noble Spaniard" this coming season, became famous in England and his wonderful impersonations of Sir Henry Irving.

Grant Mitchell, who will be in Kelet Chambers' comedy, "An Ancient can Widow," under the management of Henry B. Harris this coming season, was one of the first civilians to enter Fokien after the relief of that city during the Boxer uprising.

Fernand Eliseu, who has been engaged by Henry B. Harris in the touring company of "The Third Degree," made her first pronounced hit in "Per Majesty" in which Gray George starred. Miss Eliseu made her first pronounced New York hit at the Manhattan Theatre in "Marta of the Lowlands."

John P. Maher who will play the important role in James Raymond Fagan's play, "The Fourth," in which Henry B. Harris will star Edmund Bressie, played the longest engagement of any actor on the American stage—seven years of undisturbed work in stock.

Elsie Ferguson who will play the leading feminine role in Channing Pollock's latest play, "Such a Little Queen," is the only woman director in a horse show. Miss Ferguson is connected with the Mountbatten County

New Jersey Horse Show, which has an annual exhibition at West Bull, N. J.

What do you think of a drop curtain 65 feet wide and 33 feet high? Such a one is now being painted by artists in the Vanderbilt galleries of New York for the Denver Auditorium one of the most spacious playhouses in the country. The painting is of an allegorical nature and is said to be a particularly fine piece of work. Cleveland Moffett will be about the busiest playwright of the all this year. He is preparing four new plays for the autumn season.

Ted Dillaway has also dispelled another rumor. It was said that Mori Singer would give his pretty piece, "A Stubborn Cinderella," a long rest and confine his energies to something else. But the graceful fairy-tale opera will try it again next season and "Ted" has collected a new bunch of beauties for it. Among these connected with the show will be Harry Luther, whom Mr. Al Sheehan, paraphrasing the famous tea-house in "The Hero of Ten Thousand Hits."

The forbidden kiss and Georgia Caine prima donna of "The Motor Girl" are again to the front. A few months ago while playing in "The Prince of Tonghe," Miss Caine's husband—a recruit to the newlywed series—objected to the apparent show of affection on the part of his wife. As the "business" could not be eliminated, she promptly resigned, and all Chicago applauded. When she went in with "The Motor Girl," however, the piece first underwent an oscillatory expurgation. This is how it happened: that the heroine of "The Motor Girl" in spite of fervid enplanings skill keeps her smuglets for the legal conscience.

Lydia Lipowski, the Russian coloratura soprano who has been engaged to appear at the new Boston Opera house is now singing at the Opera Comique in Paris. The success she achieved in the French capital is said to be phenomenal. Miss Lipowski is hardly more than 23, small and slight. Her face is of great beauty, with all the characteristics of southern Russia. She and she hails from. Miss Lipowski's voice is described as a brilliant pure soprano trained to a mastery of technique that can adapt itself admirably to the demands of coloratura roles. Although she is engaged to sing several performances at the Metropolitan opera house in New York, Miss Lipowski will make her American debut at the Boston opera house. Director Russell has selected the Delibes opera "Lakme" for the Russian soprano's first appearance, which will take place Nov. 15, the second week of the opera season.

WORK ON NERO

Believed Attempt Will Be Made Next Week to Float Her

Newport, R. I., July 23.—The boll-makers that have been at work patching up the United States collier Nero, stranded on Bretons reef, returned to New York last night and today a crew of riggers is expected.

It is believed here that preparations will be completed next week for floating the Nero and that if the attempt succeeds she will be brought into this port and placed on the mud flats, where temporary repairs will be made so that the vessel may be towed either to the Brooklyn or Boston navy yards to be dry docked.

After completing work on the Nero the Arbutus wreckers who have undertaken the task will resume their operations on the cutter Yankee, which is sunk off Penikese Island.

DOVER DOINGS

Dover, July 23.—The assault case, in which two factions of Syrians in the city were mixed up in, is still the talk of the hour among the foreigners and it would not be surprising if more trouble of a serious nature were the result from the melee, as feeling runs very high. One of the Assid George faction said that he had been threatened by a man from the other hosi, as they call the factions, and he was afraid that some harm might come to him because of his connection with the case. When one of the George clique passes one of the Daher crowd on the street, it can be seen by the glowering looks that there is bad blood between them. Ice Daher and Joe Daher, who were remanded to jail without bail to await trial of September term of court, have been admitted to bail, on petition of counsel to Judge Pike, at $2500 each. This they secured.

Walter Cox with Charles Greenough's 5 year old trotting mare, Bismarck, won first money at Windsor, Ont. in the 210 class. The fast little mare walked easily away from the three straight heats and was not called upon to go the limit.

The local journeymen barbers' union will send a representative to the national convention at Milwaukee, which opens Oct. 5. William Conlin has been elected as delegate and Dennis Sullivan as alternate.

The Sunday school of St. Thomas Episcopal church held its annual picnic at Central park yesterday and the outing proved to be most enjoyable. Athletic sports were not lacking today and there was much rivalry between the lads as to who could run the fastest, or who could jump the farthest. The picnic for the adults will be held at the park on Saturday.

Marshal James P. Adams and wife, who have been at the Welts for the past ten days, where the marshal has been enjoying his annual vacation, returned home last evening.

It is understood that John E. Kennedy is to extensively remodel the Kennedy block on the corner of Central avenue and Broadway. The plan is to have the building used exclusively for offices. The building was constructed some four or five years ago.

The case of William Collier and Abe Shadoff, charged with arson in connection with the fire in the building on Third street Sunday evening, occupied the attention of Judge William F. Nason Thursday and a great deal of testimony was introduced by both sides. It was continued till Friday for further evidence.

The members of both the O. A. C. and the C. A. C. were out practicing last evening in preparation for their game on Saturday.

BILL LANGE'S FEAT.

One of the Famous Old Outfielder's Sensational Catch.

The greatest individual feat ever performed was one by which Bill Lange saved a game for Chicago, and $200 for himself in Washington in 1905. There is an odd story connected with the play. Lange had missed a train in Boston two days before, failed to reach New York in time to play there, and Anson had fined him $100. Thereupon he missed a train to Washington—arrived on the grounds after the teams had practiced and just in time to play, and for that Anson fined him another $100. The game that afternoon went eleven innings, Chicago scoring one run in the eleventh. There were two men out and a runner on the bases when "Kip" Selbach, then one of the hardest hitters in the business, smote the ball a terrific blow and sent it flying over Lange's head to ward the center field fence. The ball seemed a sure home run, but Lange, a man weighing 225 pounds, turned and without looking sprinted desperately straight out toward the fence, racing with the flying ball. At the last instant, as the ball was going over his head, Lange leaped, stuck up both hands, turned a somersault and crashed against the fence. The boards splintered, one entire panel crashed outward and out of the wreckage crawled Lange, holding the ball in his hand, and the crowd went mad. Lange came limping in, with the crowd standing on seats shouting, and he said to Anson, "Lines go, cap?" "None," said Anson, and the catch had saved the big fielder $200.—Hugh S. Fullerton in American Magazine.

THE FIRST ALMANACS.

They Attempted to Foretell Men's Destiny. From the Stars.

The almanac, properly so called in its origin, is not merely a device for keeping people in mind of the progress of the year. It is an attempt to show what destiny has in store for us as indicated by the position of the stars in any particular year, and as, according to astrological lore, the destinies of men are ruled by the different aspects of the planets, so also the human body is subject to the influence of the constellations through which the sun appears to pass in his yearly course. A French almanac of 1910 gives a diagram of the human body surrounded by all the signs of the zodiac and indicates the various organs and members over which these signs have power, and this for a guide to ailments, or to show at what period blood may be let with safety. But the same almanac also gives directions sensible enough for the avoidance of the plague which would not be found fault with by a modern fashionable physician.

Who would keep his body in health And resist the infection of the plague. Let him seek joy and merriment. Avoid places where infections abound And cherish joyous company. A few examples of the almanacs of this character before the invention of printing, although none is believed earlier than the twelfth century. But some of the earliest specimens of printed almanacs are black printed German sheet almanacs, which are chiefly concerned about blood letting.—Westminster Gazette.

Wasted Time.

Mrs. Newrich was growing accustomed to power. She enjoyed it and was irritated when any one presumed to differ from her in opinion. When the sailing party of which she had been a member landed on the shores of the lake rain soaked and frightened, Mrs. Newrich was the only one who cared to talk.

"It could all have been avoided if that captain had done as I told him," she said between the chattering of the teeth as the party stood huddled under a small shelter.

"When I say that cloud coming from that corner of the lake I said to him, 'I think you'd better make straight for home and not spend any more time tacking,' but he paid no more attention than as if I hadn't spoken!"—Youth's Companion.

He Didn't Bet.

"A man in my county," said a Kansas congressman, "was always anxious to bet on his game of checkers. One time he was about to play a game for $10 with a fellow called Three Fingers Jack. Suddenly one of his friends exclaimed:

"Don't bet, Charlie. Don't you know that fellow wore off two fingers playing checkers? That's why he's called Three Fingers Jack."

"That settled it. The bet was never made. A man who had worn off two fingers by brushing them up and down the checkerboard was too much for my friend."—Kansas City Journal.

A Bitter Disappointment.

"When I was in Paris," remarked the collector of curios, "I discovered in a bookstall a volume which I knew at first glance to be of extraordinary value. I could scarcely believe my good luck. Breathless, I inquired the price of the dealer. Just think of it! I could have had that treasure for a song!"

"Well, why didn't you get it?" "Never could sing a note in my life," cried the collector, bursting into tears.—New York Times.

The Audience Moved.

He had been trying to start a revival fervor, but the audience was unresponsive. "O ye of little hearts," he cried, "will nothing move you?" "Pays the hat, boss," answered the gambler, "and we move immediately."—Florida Times-Union.

TRUNK MURDER STIRS LYNN

Body of Armenian Packed Away Fully Clothed

WAS STABBED AND SHOT

Discovery in Room of Boarding House, Where Crime Was Probably Committed Several Days Ago—Police Looking For His Former Associate, Who Suddenly Departed From the Shoe City.

Lynn, Mass., July 23.—Another trunk murder mystery was added to the criminal annals of the east by the finding of the body of Minos K. Monjian, an Armenian shoe worker, in a room of a boarding house at 148 Liberty street, this city, by the landlady of the place, Mrs. Bessie Robbins.

There was a bullet wound through the breast and several knife wounds on the chest. The body had been placed in the trunk fully clothed and had evidently been there since late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, for the man had been seen by a sister in Boston Saturday afternoon.

The motive of the murder is a mystery. The man bank book, his gold watch and chain and some loose change was found in his pockets, and besides, the police say that since the victim's return from a trip to Chicago about two weeks ago he had earned but $15 and they think he had been reduced to a few pennies.

The man whom the police think may be able to throw some light on the matter and whom they are anxious to find is Vahan Malbandian, an associate of Monjian and also a shoe worker, who has been missing since Monday. This man is also known as Frank Jones and the police of the large cities in the country have been asked to be on the lookout for him.

The police of Worcester have been asked to make an especially careful search through the Armenian quarter of that city for Malbandian, as they believe he once lived in that city.

The dead man was about 28 years old and was not married. Identification was made by Milton Tooten, a shoe worker of this city, and also by means of the bank book found on his person.

Outside the establishment of the victim's identity and the fact that the police are seeking Malbandian little progress has been made in the solution of the mystery.

Monjian has been missing from his boarding house at 72 Church street since Saturday. The police have searched all the local Armenian resorts in the hopes of discovering the whereabouts of Malbandian since that time. Former associates of Malbandian say they have not seen him in Lynn for many days, and that he then declared his intention of going to Turkey. At his lodging house at 148 Liberty street, where Monjian's body was found, several other boarders reported that they heard no pistol shot there in the past few days.

Chief of Police Thomas N. Burkes says he is satisfied that Malbandian and Monjian went together to Malbandian's room and that while there a premeditated murder was committed. It is the opinion of Burkes that the trunk was purchased for the purpose it was made to serve and that Monjian walked into a trap that had been carefully prepared for him.

The police claim that they know of a bank in Boston, the name of which they are not willing to give; where Malbandian secured over $200 which was on deposit in his name, within a few days. Since that time the police lost all trace of the missing man.

ELIOT'S COMING CHURCH

New Religion Predicted by Former President of Harvard College.

Cambridge, Mass., July 23.—Former President Eliot of Harvard university prophesied the advent of a new religion in an address before the Harvard-Summer School of Theology. Touching upon some of its features he said:

"In the new religion there will be no delineation of remarkable human beings."

"The multiplication of anybody of all the noblest, tenderest and highest qualities which a man has ever seen or imagined in a human being, must be the new religion. Every man makes his own God, in a way."

"The destiny of mankind has been delayed many centuries by the church teaching submission, always, to circumstances."

"The surgeon who dresses a wound is an apostle of the new religion."

"The best of the new church will be the love of truth."

COLLIDED WITH ICEBERG

Steamer Laden With Heavy Cargo Narrowly Escapes Foundering

St. John's, July 23.—With her bows completely smashed in as the result of a collision with an iceberg off Cape Race the freight steamer Regulus arrived here after a narrow escape from foundering.

The Regulus had on a heavy cargo, including a deckload of boilers and machinery. As the ship settled rapidly by the head, officers and crew worked with desperate energy to jettison the deckload as well as 100 tons of coal. This eased the steamer sufficiently to enable her to reach port. It was the worst iceberg wreck seen here in many years.

DISCREPANCIES IN THEIR EVIDENCE

Witnesses Tell of Bullet Wound in Sutton's Head

Annapolis, Md., July 23.—The question of the location of the bullet wound which caused Lieutenant Sutton's death has assumed great importance, as it would appear that it would have been a much more difficult matter for Sutton to have shot himself, lying prone on the ground with three men on top of him, if the bullet entered the top of his skull, as Surgeon Pickrell, who examined Sutton's body, testified yesterday it did.

Colonel Doren testified that he examined Sutton's body immediately after the shooting, felt the wound in his head and that it was located on the right side a little behind and on a line with the top of the ear.

Pickrell thought Sutton might have inflicted the wound upon himself, as he described it, but he made an unconvincing and awkward demonstration in court with the revolver and a free right arm to get the weapon in a position which would have sent the bullet into his head at the point where he testified it entered Sutton's head.

COMPROMISE IS OUTLINED

Tariff Conference May Soon "Get Together"

HARMONY NOW IN SIGHT

Impressed by President Telling Them That Disputed Points Are Before Them For Settlement—"Insurgents" In House Now Number Forty-Five—Free Oil If Other Raw Materials Are Made Dutiable

Washington, July 23.—President Taft appears to have brought about a tangible situation with regard to the tariff where uncertainty existed before.

Thursday was a day of conferences and concluded with a consultation at the White House last night participated in by the president, Senator Aldrich and Representative Payne, at which the chief executive was assured that a harmonious settlement of the differences existing between the two branches of congress is practicable.

This conclusion was reached from the fact that harmony pervaded the various conferences held at the Capitol Thursday. The senators opposed to the "free raw material" program were convinced by Aldrich and a committee representing the same position on the house side held a conference with Payne. In addition the house conferees met to have the experts of the senate finance committee explain the senate changes in the cotton schedule.

It is evident that the president, by informing the conferees that the disputed points were before them for settlement, brought about a condition that augurs well for an early agreement on a conference report. The chief executive was able to get a better insight into the obstacles to the "free raw material" plan by his conference with the two leaders than was possible in so large a gathering as that which was present at the dinner Wednesday night.

Senator Aldrich met a large number of senators who are opposed to free hides, coal and iron ore, and no encouragement was offered for the placing of any of these articles on the free list. In fact were it possible to get these senators to yield, the situation in the house would have to be dealt with.

The "tariff insurgents" in the house who are opposed to free raw materials adopted resolutions protesting against the plan. They designated a committee to confer with Payne, but the latter did not offer them much encouragement.

Representative Dwight, the Republican whip of the house, conferred with Aldrich and informed him that the anti-free raw material sentiment in the house was a matter which required serious consideration. He said its strength had grown to forty-five members.

The advocates of dutiable hides in both houses declare a compromise is possible, but that they cannot consider the placing of these articles on the free list.

With regard to the free reciprocity provision on coal in the house bill there also was a firm stand. The members interested in coal declared that such a provision would make the situation with regard to coal untenable for the operatives and that a reduction in the senate rate without a clause for reciprocal free trade was more acceptable.

That a nominal duty on iron ore will be agreed to by the conferees is the indication. No determination as to the rate has been suggested.

Owing to the diversified opinions expressed with regard to oil, it is more likely that the conferees' report will place petroleum on the free list without a countervailing duty proposition. The house "insurgents" have indicated their willingness to concede free oil if the other raw materials are made dutiable.

General discussion of the custom court and corporation tax provisions and of the duties on cotton goods, gloves and hosiery took up the time of the conferees at Thursday's session and adjournment was taken to permit a separate meeting of the house conferees. It was decided that the headquarters of the customs court of appeals shall be located in Washington.

The entire time of the house conferees was taken up in the discussion of the cotton schedule.

HAINS BUSY IN PRISON

Has Invented a Useful Appliance Since His Incarceration

New York, July 23.—Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., is not spending the time he was sentenced to Sing Sing for killing William E. Annis in idleness or repining. Eugene Young, his attorney, returned from the prison after a consultation with his client regarding an appeal, which goes to the appellate division this fall. He reports that Hains is hopeful and busy.

Because of his engineering experience Hains was placed in charge of the draughting in the iron and tin department of the prison shops. Recently he invented there an appliance that is said to have increased the efficiency of a street cleaning machine used in New York city.

AS WHEN HUDSON COMMANDED HER

Half Moon Will Be a Feature of New York's Celebration

New York, July 23.—Three hundred years after her original famous voyage, the reproduction of Henry Hudson's vessel, the Half Moon, came into New York harbor resting on the broad deck of the Dutch freighter Soestdyk.

Built in Amsterdam by public subscription the new Half Moon was sent here as Holland's popular contribution to the Hudson-Fulton celebration commemorating the discovery of the Hudson river from the deck of the original Half Moon and Robert Fulton's epoch-making steamship voyage.

The Half Moon is only 74 feet long over all and has a breadth of barely 17 feet.

The great crane in the Brooklyn navy yard is to lift her up and put her down in the water and then she is to be fitted out exactly as she was when Hudson commanded her.

WON'T SPEAK TO WIFE

Ground Upon Which a Woman Seeks Divorce From Her Husband

Asbury Park, N. J., July 23.—Mrs. Frank J. Beekman has brought to the courts a case where silence ceases to be golden. Supported by the testimony of friends and neighbors, she is suing her husband for divorce on the ground that, since she married him in 1905, he has refused to speak to her and that of late he has also forgotten how to work.

Never, says the wife, has her husband voluntarily addressed her. He answers important questions, she says, by a nod of the head only. Refraining from all comment, Beekman does not contest the suit.

BRIAND NAMED AS PREMIER

Asked to Reconstruct the Clemenceau Cabinet

IS AN AVOWED SOCIALIST

All But Three of Old Cabinet Members Likely to Be Retained in the New One by Man Who Has Risen Very Rapidly From Ranks of Politicians to Foremost Place in French Government

Paris, July 23.—Aristide Briand, brilliant scholar, orator and avowed Socialist, and architect of the final chapters of the separation law, was summoned to the Elysee palace last night and asked to reconstruct the Clemenceau cabinet. Briand promised his answer today, stating that unless he could unite the Republican groups he would go no further.

President Fallieres, upon the advice of the parliamentary leaders whom he was constitutionally obliged to consult, intended to make the first offer of the premiership to Leon Bourgeois, former minister of foreign affairs, but the delay to Bourgeois' arrival in Paris and doubt regarding his acceptance of the post induced the president to save time by offering the premiership directly to Briand, who already is consulting with his colleagues with a view to the reconstruction of the cabinet.

THREE STRIKERS SHOT

Serious Situation Exists in a Wisconsin Tannery Plant

Kenosha, Wis., July 23.—State troops at Milwaukee are in readiness to proceed at once to this city in event of any recurrence of the rioting which broke out here when the N. H. Allen Sons company reopened its tannery plant, the employees of which had been on strike.

The rioting began when the guards attempted to disperse strikers who gathered in numbers about the entrance of the plant to jeer at 200 or more men who remained at work.

A deputy and a policeman were attacked and the guards charged the mob, firing in the air. When the strikers retreated, one of their number was found to have been shot and probably fatally injured. The deputy and the policeman were also painfully hurt.

The shooting quenched hostilities, but a few minutes later a riot occurred on the street. The police had made an arrest when strikers attacked them. In the fight that followed two strikers were shot through the legs. Many arrests followed.

TRUNK LINE HIGHWAYS

Hon. Paul D. Sargent of Machias, state highway commissioner for Maine, expects to have $93,000 surplus from the 1909 state highway appropriation, to be expended in trunk line highway work in 1910.

Under the law in Maine the state highway appropriation is first used for aid to towns which make permanent improvements on the main-traveled road in the town, which road shall have been designated as the state road. The next year, any surplus is ordinarily to be used in building connecting links for towns where their state roads do not meet, as for instance in Kittery, where the state road runs from Portsmouth bridge to York but does not meet the Elliot state road which runs from Kittery line to South Berwick line.

This year's appropriation is about $85,000 in excess of the possible legal demands from the municipalities, and about $8000 will be unclaimed.

In case of urgent need, the surplus can be partially devoted to the additional construction of state roads which would form a trunk line highway through the state. It is understood that Mr. Sargent contemplates the construction of a trunk line road from Kittery to Portland as soon as possible with these moneys, or such portion of them as may be properly diverted to that purpose. The towns between the two have designated the entire stretch as state roads, and more than $60,000 of town and state money will this year be expended in permanent improvements upon them.

In New Hampshire wishes to get the most out of the automobile tourist travel it is evident that the state is not beginning any too soon on the trunk line highways from Massachusetts to the Mountains and to the Coos county towns.

LITERARY NOTES

The August Everybody's

The August Everybody's presents another of those remarkable scientific articles by Dr. William Hanna Thompson which in book form would have placed him among the popular novelists as a "best seller." This time Dr. Thompson talks of "Indispensable Bacteria," and tells of a bottle of germs that can be ordered by mail, and will do the work of wagon loads of old-fashioned fertilizer.

John L. Matthews in "Handmade Forests" shows how several European countries have turned disasters of deforestation into triumphs of scientific forestry that pay large incomes into national treasuries.

The August World Wide Magazine

One of the leading articles in the World Wide Magazine for August deals with "Exploits of the Duke of the Abruzzi." The romantic explorer has long since taken his place among the world's most foremost delvers into the unknown, and now that he has started upon another expedition in the Himalayas, this article, which is authoritative will be read with additional interest. The account of His Royal Highness's exploits deals particularly with his achievement in scaling Mt. St. Elias, Alaska, his adventurous dash towards the North Pole and his conquest of the Mountains of the Moon.

The August Strand Magazine

Fiction plays an important part in the August number of the Strand Magazine, the contributors including Hall Caine, W. W. Jacobs, Beckles Willson Evelyn E. Rynd, Frank Saville, W. Pett Ridge and E. Nesbit. The articles are interesting and unique. Louis N. Parker of "Pageant" fame, contributes an interesting chapter of "Reminiscences"; E. H. Atkin, assisted by the animal artist J. A. Shepard, writes of "Feet and Hands" in the course of which he asserts that "the foot came in suddenly when the backboned creatures began to live on dry land, that is—frogs."

CONSUMPTION

At least one-half of the consumption in the world can be traced to catarrh.

Here are some symptoms of catarrh; if you have any of them get rid of them while there is yet time.

Is your throat raw?

Do you sneeze often?

Is your breath foul?

Are your eyes watery?

Do you take cold easily?

Is your nose stopped up?

Do you have to spit often?

Do crusts form in your nose?

Are you worse in damp weather?

Do you blow your nose a great deal?

Are you losing your sense of smell?

Does your mouth taste bad mornings?

Do you have a dull feeling in your head?

Do you have to clear your throat on rising?

Is there a tickling sensation in your throat?

Do you have a discharge from the nose?

Does mucous drop in back of throat?

Breathe Hyomei (pronounced High-amei) into the lungs over the germ ridden membrane and kill the germ—a complete Hyomei outfit, including inhaler, costs $1.00 at Goolwin & Philbrick's, who guarantee it, and extra bottles 50 cents.

A TIMELY TOPIC

BY
DR. CHARLES W. ELIOT
Former Pres. Harvard UniversityThe Best Occupation
for Women.

MARRIAGE is the best occupation for woman, but there are certain occupations, such as typewriting, secretary work, cashiers, teaching music or in the public schools that do not interfere with this ultimate, happiest life for a healthy woman.

It is well for girls and young women to have an occupation in which they can earn their living before marriage, but to this end it is necessary for girls to pursue their education beyond the grammar school. They ought to go through the high school and somewhat beyond, if that be possible.

There is no objection to young women going into a variety of occupations, some which young men have heretofore monopolized. Indeed, young women have largely displaced young men in many excellent occupations, such as stenographers, typewriting, secretary work, keeping accounts, serving as cashiers, giving music lessons, teaching in schools and being forewomen in millinery shops and shops where dresses are made for women and children.

Of course, the best occupation for a woman is marrying and bringing up a family, but such occupations as I have mentioned do not interfere with this ultimate, happiest life for a healthy woman. After marriage the occupation may have to be abandoned for a term of years and in the most fortunate case it is not resumed, but in many cases it is resumed later to the great advantage of the woman most nearly concerned and perhaps of other people dependant upon her.

NORWAY SPRUCE

Paper Company Setting Out Thousands of Spruce Trees.

Mount Sunapee, July 23.—John G. Sargent, who has been cruiser and buyer for the International Paper company for fourteen years, has set out 28,000 seedlings, mostly Norway spruce, which they claim crush into better pulp for paper than our common spruce, but it takes some thirty years for the sprouts to grow into a tree big enough to cut for pulp.

dal business in this section. Mr. Stevenson is the first to finish. He has had a gang of workers who knew their business and he got his hay crop quicker and cheaper than ever before, the weather being all that could be desired. He reports a shortage of about one-third the usual crop. Dr. Pierce has got his motor boat in the water and has invited many of the young folks to trip down to the ocean.

Mark Boulter has planted a large acreage of corn, potatoes, beans, cabbage, beets, squashes, onions and other vegetables. He has about 60 hogs and pigs. He says the season is not so good as he hoped for and his stuff does not look as well as it ought.

James J. Coughlin has a nice lot of vegetables planted to which he has given an extra care and the crops show it. Mrs. Coughlin is very much of a farmer and enjoys being out of doors and helping care for the crops.

Rev. Mr. Denney has gone to his home in Ohio on a vacation trip of three weeks. During his absence there will be only the Sabbath school exercises at the church.

Mrs. Jane Trickey has nearly recovered from her recent sickness and is out of doors again.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Pettigrew are entertaining friends from Washington, D. C. Mr. Pettigrew is still very poorly, but he does quite a little work in his garden.

Major C. W. Herrold, U. S. A., retired, and wife are guests of their son, Herbert Harold. They have spent several weeks at York Beach. Mr. Herbert Harold has improved very much from his recent sickness and will soon return to work at the navy yard.

David Simson is suffering from heart trouble and is able to do but little work. He has made many improvements on his cottage since purchasing it. Mrs. Simson is a sister to Miss Emma Berry and they find it very pleasant to be such near neighbors.

Mrs. George Manson and her mother have returned from Pittsfield, N. H., where Mrs. Manson's sister has been very dangerously sick. They report her some better but not out of danger.

The basement of the new school-house is all ready for the foundation to be put in place and the work on the building will soon begin to make a good show.

PAYING MENDUM-PRIZES

The second to call at the Herald office for one of the Mendum prizes was Miss Marguerite of the Farragut school fourth grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas William Ducker of No. 3 Humphreys court. She came up on Thursday afternoon from New Castle, where the family is summering.

Her signature on the receipt for the $2 was substantial evidence of the good judgement of the committee in awarding her one of these penmanship prizes.

The third prize to be claimed was that of Jeannette Pratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Pratt of No. 49 Market street. She has been a scholar in the seventh grade for the past year.

The fourth to come in was Dorothy E. Depuet of last year's seventh grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Depuet of School street. She is twelve years old and is an exceptionally fine penman.

One of the prizes remains unpaid, that awarded to M. Edna Patton of the sixth grade. It is understood that she is out of the city at present.

PEOPLES' OPINIONS

To the Editor of the Herald.
My dear Sir:

Doubtless with many others, I read with some concern your editorial on reunion or the prospect of reunion between Episcopalians and Congregationalists. I do not mean to say anything pro or con for the matters concerned or your treatment of them. I merely wish to say that I appreciate the discussion of such an important matter from entirely one-sided and partisan standpoint in the editorial column of your paper. Reunion of a divided Christendom is a matter of such great importance that none of us should hinder any movement towards that end, by creating prejudices and stirring up opposition. For that reason, I with many who are called "Episcopalians," sincerely regret the matter and temper of this editorial.

Very truly,
Charles LeV. Brine.

FLEET EVENTS

Things That are Heard
—at Provincetown

Provincetown, July 23.—The absence of the 15 battleships gives a deserted appearance to the harbor, but nevertheless not a few exciting incidents have occurred. On Thursday morning a boiler tube burst on the steam launch of the Prairie, while the launch, with four men aboard, was nearing Railroad pier.

Thursday afternoon the captain's gig, commonly called the whale boat, of the supply ship Celtic, left the landing stage, carrying 15 or 20 men, among them Acting Assistant Surgeon Frank W. Thompson, Chief Boatswain John Mahoney and Boatswain William Spicer. The boat was under sail, using the sliding gunter rig. The sails were not large, measured by Cape Cod standards, but they proved too large for the crank craft, and before long the whaleboat was on her beam ends, with her entire company clinging to the upper gunwale or treading water alongside.

Only a 15 knot breeze was blowing, but it was sufficient to kick up quite a "chaw" between the two long-piers, and for a moment fears for the safety of some of the wave washed company were felt. Fortunately the Celtic's steam launch chanced to be approaching and put on speed for the scene. Only a few minutes elapsed between the capsizing and the picking off of the crew, but several of those who had been clinging to the whaleboat were quite exhausted when they were hauled over the side of the launch. Wet through they were taken to the landing stage, where they shivered for half an hour in a raw southwest wind before they could be taken to their ship.

One of the torpedo flotilla left the harbor at 5.30 Thursday afternoon, bound out to the battleship fleet, where she was to take the Connecticut's ordnance officer aboard and make the round of the scattered fleet to see that the picket boats are on their proper stations and in readiness for a night attack of the flotilla upon the battleships.

It is learned that on Monday night the fleet was attacked by the four submarines. Two were discovered and "sunk" by the battleships, but the Viper "sank" the Virginia. Wednesday night the fleet was attacked by the torpedo boats, but the attack was repelled.

The target grounds are covered with dead fish killed by the firing of the big guns.

FROM EXETER

Silver Wedding of the Eastmans

Water Works Service Much Extended

Mrs. George D. Crummett Died on Thursday

Exeter Girl Will Marry a Man from Kittery

Exeter, July 23.—Thursday was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Eastman. In celebration of the event they held a largely attended reception from 8 to 10 o'clock last evening at their home on High street. The occasion was most enjoyable.

Superintendent Charles H. Johnson of the Exeter water works, is this week having new service pipes installed into all of the business blocks on Water street and as a result the street is being dug up by a force of workmen. This step is being taken at this period as the street is soon to be macadamized, and it is thus easier to excavate than it would be after the work of macadamizing is completed. The first pipe to be installed is into the Janvin block, and others will be taken in succession, thus prolonging the work for some time. An efficient force of workmen is employed.

Hattie M., wife of Mr. George D. Crummett, died at her home on Main street Thursday after a long sickness from cancer in her 57th year. She was born in Groton, Mass., March 5, 1853, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Russell. For 20 years she had been an esteemed resident of Exeter, coming here from Amesbury. She was a member of the Methodist church and of Damon Temple, Pythian Sisters, and of Winnacummet Rebekah lodge, Hampton. She leaves one brother, Mr. Frank T. Russell, of Springfield, Mass. An uncle called at the home yesterday and was shocked to find her dead.

Mr. Charles E. Bartlett, of Lynn, Mass., accompanied by his wife, is visiting relatives and friends in town the visit being the first in nearly twenty years.

Mr. Frank A. Dolloff, of Los Angeles, Cal., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dolloff. This is his first home visit in 11 years. During this period he has visited the Klondike region of Alaska. He will spend a month or more at his old home.

Russell H. Welsh, of the four year class graduated from the High school last June, will next fall enter New Hampshire college.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Pyntington are spending a fortnight at Sebago Lake, Me., where Miss Florence B. Wood is also quartered.

Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Bowker announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth H., to Mr. Harlan Albion Parsons, of Ottery, Me. James E. Knipe, of the class graduated from the High school in 1908, has secured a bookkeeper's position with the Haverhill Trust company.

Dr. Rena W. Morse, formerly of Exeter, is the guest for a few weeks of Miss Jennie R. Harvey. She has resigned her Clinton, Mass. hospital post.

Mr. Robert A. Burlingame is at home from Bethlehem, Pa., for a week's vacation after which he will take a new position with large steel works in Butler, Pa.

Irving W. Brown, of North Hampton, has done the cellar work for an attractive double dwelling which P. Otis Tilton will build for Hon. William H. C. Follansby on High street.

NORTH HAMPTON

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross are visiting Miss Miriam Hathaway in Middleboro, Mass.

Mrs. John W. Warner was a guest at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Davis in Newmarket last week.

The Misses Benn of Amesbury, Mass., have visited Mrs. Charles E. Seavey recently.

Morris Moulton is suffering from the effects of a fall from a load of hay, which, owing to Mr. Moulton's advanced age, occasioned a severe shock and general shaking up.

William Drew, youngest son of Mrs. Addie Crow, has a badly fractured leg, the result of an accident in the hay field.

Mrs. Harvey W. Hobbs and children have returned to Beverly, Mass. after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hobbs.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Rosea Marsh have a new automobile, a Maxwell runabout.

Rev. and Mrs. D. E. Adams of Wellesley Hills, Mass., have lately visited relatives in town.

Rev. John Savage will exchange with Rev. M. F. Mevin next Sunday morning.

COMING NEXT WEEK

Bert Spears, Novelty Dialect Comedian, to be Heard at Music Hall

Bert Spears, who will be at Music Hall next week, offers impersonations of the everyday comedy characters of vaudeville, opening with two clever and up to date parodies, in Hebrew dialect, followed by a well told story in the Irish brogue.

His French Canadian bit is especially good, and his material and dialect well handled.

His last character is that of the German comedian, assuming the make up in the sight of the audience, producing the different articles of make up from his pocket, even to a collapsible make up stand, mirror, etc. The time that would be lost in making up, is used to excellent advantage by reciting a little gem of dramatic philosophy, which he calls "Appreciation," which is so timed that his make up is just finished and the articles returned to his pocket at the close of his recitation.

He introduces another novelty here; the interruption of a telephone call, having a telephone arrangement concealed upon his person, and starting a conversation with an imaginary friend. It is funny, genuinely so, especially when the operator cuts him off, and he has an argument that is as laughable as it is life-like.

Mr. Spear has succeeded in presenting a genuine novelty for a talking entertainer; and deserves credit for getting out of the rut of the daily grind of vaudeville.

CITY BRIEFS

Repairs on the woodwork are being made on the Noble's Island bridge.

The Wentworth mansion on the corner of Pleasant and Wentworth streets is being dismantled.
